

Today's Young Professional: Tammie Domenigoni

August 15, 2010

Name: Tammie Domenigoni

Age: 28

I live in: Salem

What I do at work: I am the business manager, human resources manager, technology director and full charge bookkeeper at Golden Rule Remodeling & Architecture, Inc. I oversee all aspects of our office administration from payroll to website management.

What I do on my time: Outside of work I am most passionate about being a great mother, wife, daughter, and friend. I also love to camp, swim, visit the beach, travel, play sports, take photographs, and further my technology skills.

Why I work and live in the Mid-Valley: I was born and raised in Oregon and within the last few years moved to Salem with my family. I love that Salem offers my family a variety of both indoor and outdoor entertainment with a small town feel. I enjoy working in Salem and being able to assist our community members with great care and customer service.

What's my favorite Salem secret: My favorite Salem secret is an often overlooked beautiful day hike in the Opal Creek area. It is a location that is abundant with history and scenery.

What's something people wouldn't guess about me: I love music and enjoy playing the saxophone, piano and flute.

What was I like at 12 years old? I was determined to be the best at everything whether it was starring in the lead role at the school play, earning straight A's on my report card or leading my sports team as the MVP.

My smartphone: I do not currently have a smartphone however I do use my phone for e-mail, instant messaging, texting, social networking, and sharing photos. If I were to buy a smartphone I would probably look at purchasing an iPhone

Twitter or Facebook? I am signed up with Twitter and Facebook but I use Facebook most often to connect with friends, family, and businesses. www.facebook.com/tammiedomenigoni

I'd love to have lunch with: My great-grandmother. She was a brilliant, strong woman who was fluent in numerous languages, a teacher, a librarian and a mother during a challenging time in our country's 20th century.

Salem Area Young Professionals is focused on showcasing Salem as a choice destination for young professionals while establishing Salem's next generation of business and community leaders. Information: www.salemyoungpros.com.